Directions:

Long version: Have each group member fill in the 4 circles with as many answers as they can think of. Give each person time to share with the whole group what they wrote down.

Medium version: Have each group member fill in 5 answers for each of the 4 circles. Have group members get into groups of 2-3 and share their answers with each other. If you want to include the entire group in a final round, have each small group member share the most interesting fact they learned about one other person. The whole group gets to know several interesting things about a few people, and one interesting story about each person.

Short version: Have each group member write down 3 answers for each of the 4 circles. Shuffle the papers and pass them out in the group randomly. One at a time, take turns reading the paper that you received and when you're finished, the group will guess who's paper it is.
